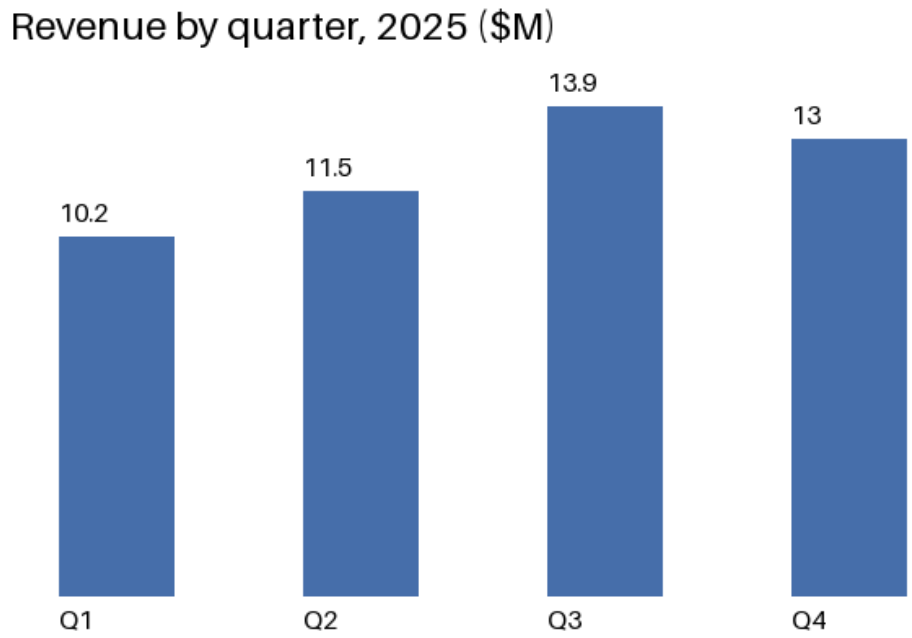
Halvorsen Robotics - Annual Report 2025

Overview

Halvorsen Robotics builds autonomous picking robots for warehouses. The company was founded in 2014 by Ingrid Halvorsen, who is still its CEO. At the end of 2025 it employed 412 people across two offices, in Oslo and Austin.

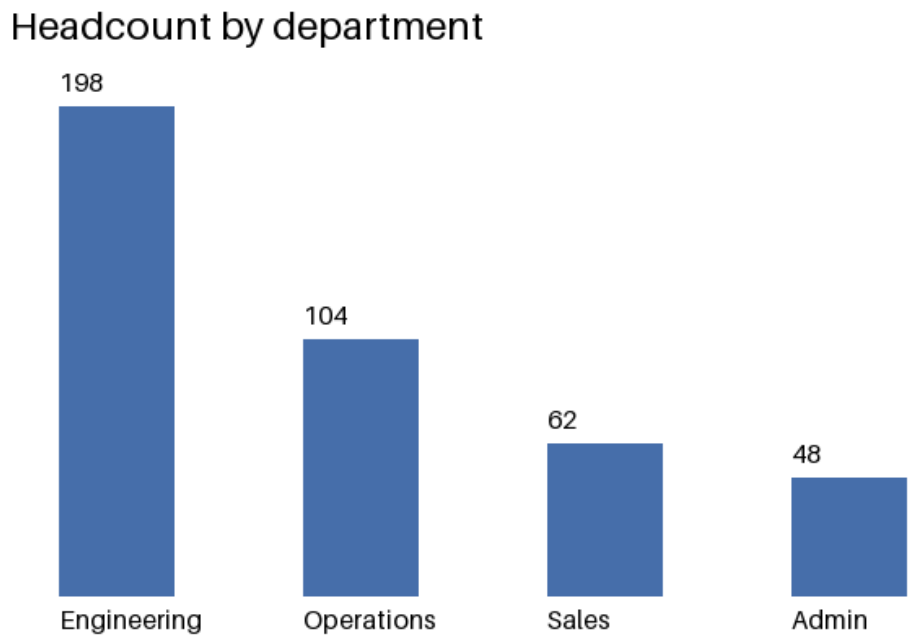
Financial results

Total revenue for 2025 was 48.6 million dollars, up 18 percent from 2024. Revenue by quarter is shown in the chart below.



People

The chart below shows headcount by department at the end of the year.



Outlook

In 2026 the company plans to open a third office, in Singapore, and targets revenue of 60 million dollars. The 2026 IT hardware budget is 1.2 million dollars.